NEW YORKERS BOOED WILLKIE'S PICTURE

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—A crowd of over half-a-million New Yorkers jammed the Times Square where the election results were flashed up.

Strong pro-Democrat, they booed Mr. Willkie's picture and cheered Mr. Roosevelt's. As the trend towards Mr. Roosevelt became clear they cheered themselves hoarse.

All 10,000 of New York's Police were on duty, but they were not busier than the firemen who attended hundreds of alarms—chiefly to extinguish street fires started by election celebrants.

Bars, closed until the polling was completed, were swamped by parched and noisy customers.

The 1 a.m. edition of the NEW YORK TIMES appeared with the headline "Roosevelt re-elected President" and, in a leader, appealed to all Americans to support him in the critical days.

MARKED TREND

As 5 a.m. was approaching in New York, with excited election crowds jamming the streets, the trend towards Mr. Roosevelt became marked throughout the country as the national vote reached the 9,000,000 mark.

It was announced that Mr. Roosevelt led in the States with 449 electoral votes while Mr. Willkie led in the States with 82 electoral votes.

Colonel Knox, Secretary of the Navy, broadcast a statement declaring that the "people of the United States, by a great majority, chose Mr. Roosevelt to lead them through the grave times which lie immediately ahead."

A number of newspapers, including the pro-Willkie organs, conceded Mr. Roosevelt's victory, but Mr. Willkie, after conferring with his party advisers, refused to make concessions.

FAILED TO VOTE

For the first time in living memory, the Vice-President of the United States has failed to vote. Circumstances reflected the changed situation between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. John N. Garner—his running mate in 1932 and 1936—since Mr. Garner during the last two years became openly critical of the New Deal.

This led to the coolness between the two and to the triumph of the New Deal faction which secured the nomination for the Vice-President of the Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Henry A. Wallace, at the Democratic Convention.

CLINCHED CONTROL

Democrats clinched the control of the Senate as early results were announced. They quickly won elections for nine seats which was added to the 44 "held over" to give them 53 seats against 49 needed for the majority. (Seats held over means seats not vacated).

Three Republicans are hitherto elected to add to the "held over" of 15.

RECORD POLL

Mr. Roosevelt carried New York City by 727,000 votes on the record poll of over 95 per cent. of the electorate.

LIKELY TO WIN

MASSACHUSETTS, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The Democratic headquarters here announced last night that President Roosevelt is likely to win that State by 150,000 votes, running from five to 15 per cent. above his figures in the 1936 election.

Mr. Edward Flynn announced that Mr. Roosevelt is carrying industrial centres in Indiana by two to one.

R.A.F. Now Stronger Than When War Began

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The weight of Britain's bombing attack on Germany "had increased and was increasing and would continue to increase," declared Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary for Air, speaking in Sheffield.

The Nazis thought they would have invaded Britain by the end of September. So thought the world, but they were wrong. Against the cool courage of the civilian and the daring of the fighter squadrons and the dogged determination of workers, German air attacks have been in vain and the R.A.F. today was stronger than when the war began.

AT VERY ROOTS
It would be a mistake to think they are only concerned to defend themselves against the German attack. They are attacking with bombers at the very roots of the Nazi power, giving the Germans in Berlin and other cities a strong taste of their own medicine.

Sir Archibald called for more young men as pilots and other members of bomber crews now that the training organisation has been expanded.

ANXIETY IS LESSENER

FRENCH CARIBBEAN POSSESSIONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Lessening the anxiety about the French possessions in the Caribbean was indicated by Mr. Cordell Hull, the Secretary of State, at a Press conference, who said that naval and other activities of the United States in those regions are only part of the usual precautions.

The United States Government was carrying on conversations with France and other countries with regard to commercial and other questions. He knew nothing special with regard to Martinique and other French territory.

FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT RE-ELECTED FOR THIRD TERM BY SUBSTANTIAL MAJORITY

Big Gains For Democrats In Both Houses

THE VICTORY OF PRESIDENT FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT IS NOW CONFIRMED, ACCORDING TO A LATE MESSAGE FROM LONDON LAST NIGHT.

A MESSAGE FROM NEW YORK STATED THAT MR. ROOSEVELT HAD BEEN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA FOR A THIRD TERM AND ADDED THAT MR. WENDELL WILLKIE, THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE, HAD CONCEDED HIS VICTORY AND TELEGRAPHED HIS CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. ROOSEVELT.

Final figures are not yet known but it is understood that Mr. Roosevelt's re-election will be by a potential majority.

The Democrats have also gained a big majority in both Houses.

It is estimated that individual voting gave Mr. Roosevelt a majority of over 4,000,000.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt elected for a third term by a substantial majority.

The American Presidential election, in which Mr. Roosevelt has been re-elected for a third term by a substantial majority, has been followed in Britain with more general and keener interest than any previous Presidential contest, including even that of 1916, says British Wireless.

By a curious paradox, however, the opinion here has also never been more impartial or detached. The reason is that this year the issue which so deeply concerned the British public as to overshadow all others—the question of aid in war material and of moral support in the rescue of civilisation from Hitlerism—has not been the real issue at all.

For a long time, it has been realised that both the Presidential candidate are in conformity with the mind of the Great American people itself and stood for the utmost help by the American industry to the British war effort.

Beside this the other issues of contest, which at a normal time would arouse some partisanship among a rather limited public here, according to the apparent correspondence of their own domestic political sympathies with the programmes of the candidates, have paled to insignificance.

DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLE

The election has also been welcomed as a heartening demonstration of the democratic principle. At the very moment when Britain is battling for freedom, 50,000,000 electors across the Atlantic has been voting—and what is the crux of the matter, has been voting freely on the programmes and policies which will determine their future for several years.

There have been many attempts to forecast the result of the election, but its most essential characteristic, as seen from Europe, was exactly the fact that at no point could anyone foretell with certainty the figures which this great plebiscite would yield.

It is that simple test which marks it off from some recent "elections" on this side of the Atlantic in which a majority vote of anything from 94 to 99 per cent. was a foregone conclusion from the beginning.

And it is to preserve that difference and all that underlies it in the moral strength of the State and the opportunities of the same development for its people that are upholders of freedom everywhere are ranged against totalitarian reaction in 1940, was that whoever won could not help winning a battle for freedom which would stand as an example and encouragement both to those who lie oppressed under the Nazi domination and to those who are fighting under or alongside the British flag in the war of liberation.

IMMEDIATE REACTION

Reports indicate that the immediate reaction, following the election is the desire to sink the differences in favour of national unity and eradicate the bitterness aroused in the campaign.

Leading newspapers, like the New York Herald-Tribune and the New York Times, which have backed Mr. Willkie, urge the support of Mr. Roosevelt in his third term as a national, rather than a Party, leader, and there is expectation that the defeated candidate will not be behind-hand in response to the appeal voiced among the orders by the Secretary for the Navy, Colonel Frank Knox, who is himself a Republican, for the rally of all Parties behind the Administration in making the United States strong.

That is the national temper which the British recognise and respect.

The first reports from Berlin and Rome suggest it is a temper which the totalitarians also recognise and which they fear.

A HEAVY POLL

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—A heavy poll in the Presidential election was indicated as soon as voting began yesterday. Crowds

Roosevelt's Victory Welcomed In All London Quarters

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Mr. Roosevelt's victory is welcomed in all London quarters, not because there is any feeling against Mr. Willkie nor any special predilection in favour of democratic as opposed to the republic as the Party, but because the continuity of the administration is now assured.

There will be no loss of time which would have been entailed by a change in administration.

Duke Of Gloucester's Fund

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The Lord Mayor of London's Red Cross and St. John's Ambulance Fund will in the future be known as the Duke of Gloucester's Fund, and contributions should be addressed to him at Saint James's Palace while the Lord Mayor's Air Raid Distress Fund will continue to operate from the Mansion House.

The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund now totals £3,344,000, while the Lord Mayor's Air Raid Distress Fund totals £1,400,000.

It is realised that both candidates pledged themselves up to the hilt to give Britain maximum aid, short of actually entering the war. For this reason, the British Press and radio comments have been scrupulously fair and objective. A tremendous amount of space was devoted to the election news, but the balance has been maintained absolutely even. No responsible speaker has attempted to take sides.

Even the important fact that Mr. Willkie's action might entail the loss of time owing to the political changeover has not been alluded to even indirectly.

AXIS ATTITUDE

The German and Italian Press attitude has been somewhat different. Embarrassed by the pro-British stand of both candidates, Axis editors generally minimised the importance of the election, but quoted neutral opinions to show that Britain is banking on Mr. Roosevelt's success and would seriously be disappointed by a Republican victory.

This oblique approach is clearly intended to serve the German radio propaganda purposes. The German chagrin at the result of the election will now be doubtless cheerfully concealed under an avalanche of quotations from the Press, in countries under the Axis domination, to show that democracy in the United States has received another blow.

MARTIAL LAW IN CANTON

Martial law has been enforced in Canton since last Monday, according to reports that have been received by transportation concerns locally. The reports state that Japanese troops have been posted at all important centres in the city, including the Pearl River bridge, and pedestrians are being closely searched.

Private Houses Are Bombed

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Objections in Germany and invasion ports in German occupied territory were attacked last night by aircraft of the Bomber Command, according to an Air Ministry announcement.

The communique adds that enemy raids on Britain last night did not develop on a large scale. East Scotland, the Midlands and the London area were among the areas attacked but casualties were not large.

Most of the buildings hit were private houses.

London had the longest night raid hitherto, beginning earlier and ending later than any previously.

TODAY'S WAR SUMMARY

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION concluded yesterday with the re-election of Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt as President for a third term by a substantial majority over the Republican candidate, Mr. Wendell Willkie. The result is warmly welcomed in all London quarters. It is estimated that individual votes for Mr. Roosevelt had a majority of over four million.

THE BRITISH EMPIRE RECORD for a forced march has been broken by South African troops in Kenya who covered 384 miles in 11½ hours with only five hours rest.

A NEW SERIES OF FORTIFIED heights with semi-permanent defences on the western Macedonian front have been captured by the Greeks, according to a High Command communique issued in Athens. The Greek Air Force successfully bombed aerodromes in Koritza.

IN A SPEECH IN SHEFFIELD, the Air Secretary, Sir Archibald Sinclair, declared that the weight of Britain's bombing attack on Germany would continue to increase. The R.A.F. was stronger today than when the war began.

FULLEST POSSIBLE SUPPORT for Greece is urged in the British Press comments on Mr. Churchill's speech in the House of Commons. The speech has given great satisfaction in Athens.

FULLEST BRITISH SUPPORT FOR GREECE URGED BY THE PRESS

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The fullest British support for Greece is urged in the Press comments on Mr. Churchill's speech.

Remarking that clearly the House of Commons was not altogether satisfied with the general assurance as the Prime Minister's declaration that the Government would do their best, THE TIMES, in a leader, emphasises that "it is manifestly of the utmost importance not only for our credit in the critical episode of the war, but for the whole of its prosecution, however long it may last, that this valiant small people shall be sustained in fighting a lion and go forward under our selves to final victory."

"Italy," adds the Times, "is conspicuously the weak spot in the construction of the Axis and it is sound strategy to attack the enemy's weak spot whenever and wherever it is found."

The appearance of hesitation of the Italian move has aroused a feeling throughout the country that the opportunity for a counter-attack has arrived and this feeling was reflected yesterday in the House of Commons.

It would not presume to dictate to the responsible command of when and how to deliver their blow, but Parliament and the people will be profoundly disturbed if the opportunity of seizing a local initiative is missed.

GREAT SATISFACTION

ATHENS, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Mr. Churchill's speech has given very great satisfaction here and an official spokesman declared that "his words, as an ally come straight to our hearts." Particular enthusiasm was aroused by Mr. Churchill's announcement that Britain had begun bombing military objectives in Italian cities and bases in South Italy.

COMEDY DRAMA AT KING'S

"His Girl Friday"

"The fastest-talking picture on record" is Hollywood's description of Howard Hawks' new Columbia picture, "His Girl Friday," which stars buoyant Cary Grant and beautiful Rosalind Russell at the King's Theatre today with Ralph Bellamy in a major featured role.

The romantic comedy drama, according to sound experts, hits a new speed pace for fast cross-fire talk.

Lodge Cunningham, in charge of the sound recording for the film, points out that the average person will not exceed 80 words a minute during ordinary conversation; that court reporters are considered competent to meet any emergency if they can transcribe 140 words a minute and that the late Floyd Gibbons, pioneer in the fast-talking news commentator field, talked 240 words a minute. Grant, Miss Russell and Bellamy maintain a pace between 175 and 250 words a minute in "His Girl Friday."

Miss Chiang Kan, popularly called "China's Florence Nightingale" or the "mother of wounded soldiers" died in Chungking on October 5, reports the Chinese American Daily News. Miss Chiang was director of the 5th branch of the Child Welfare Association in Szechuan.

Zanuck selected lovely Linda Darnell the sensational new Hollywood Underella girl, to make her screen debut in a leading feminine role with a cast which also features Ann Sothern, James Ellison, Jean Rogers, Lynn Bari, June Gale, Joyce Compton, Elsa herself, John Halliday, Katharine Aldridge, Alan Dinehart and Sidney Blackmer.

In the presence of many relatives and old friends the remains of the late Miss Querina Maria Leitao were laid to rest on Oct. 28 at the Fahnjenjo Cemetery, Shanghai. In the morning a Requiem Mass was celebrated at St. Pierre's Church on Avenue Dubail. Father F. X. Farmer officiated in the last rites at the graveside.

The Man's Drink That Women Appreciate

As the fame of that imperial cocktail, Gin and Rose's Lime Juice, spread from East of Suez to the West End of London, it was not the men-folk alone who gave the orders. Somehow, their wives and daughters had discovered that this drink, above others, was one to keep figures slender.

And with that discovery came another, that even a mere man who insists on Rose's Lime Juice tonight avoids a headache tomorrow.

SMASHING GREEK ASSAULTS ON KORITZA: BIG ITALIAN FORCE ENCIRCLED ON CENTRAL FRONT

ATHENS, Nov. 6 (Reuter)—With bayonets and hand-grenades, Evzones are reported to be smashing the Italian defences ringing Koritza whose fall would not only upset Italy's strategic plans but would be bound to have an important effect on the morale of the Albanians, already restless under the Italian yoke.

At the other end of the front Greek bombers successfully attacked Argyrocastro, the base which feeds Italy's drive into the coastal area of Epirus.

The encirclement of a considerable Italian force operating on the Central Front is said to be proceeding in accordance to plan. Elsewhere it is understood all recent Greek gains have been held.

Particularly good work had been done by Greek sappers in rushing light guns over the steep mountain country which forms the background of this "David and Goliath" war.

ITALIANS SURPRISED

The Italians have frequently been taken by surprise as a result of the rapidity of manoeuvre achieved by these units.

It is announced that not a single military objective has been hit during Italian air raids on Greece since the start of the war.

King George yesterday visited the damaged area in Piraeus, the port of Athens, which was heavily bombed in the morning when Athens had its longest alert of the day.

OBSERVERS IMPRESSED

Foreign observers here have been deeply impressed by the sober caution of Greek official communiques which, if anything, err on the side of moderation.

The Greek authorities are extremely anxious to avoid creating any feeling of over-confidence and foreign correspondents have been urged to avoid any temptation to exaggerate Greek successes which can speak for themselves.

GREEKS CAPTURE VILLAGE

LATEST BLOW to Italy's hopes of a swift advance into Greece is the capture by the Greeks of the village of Zimni Wazra, on Lake Chrid, according to information received in Belgrade last evening from the Greek-Yugoslav frontier.

Many of the Italian soldiers captured by the Greeks, it was added, complain of having been "betrayed by the Albanians."

The claim that Greek detachments have attacked and occupied a height in Albanian territory was made yesterday in an official communique issued in Athens.

At various points the Greeks made prisoners and captured mortars, machine-guns and other weapons.

DIRAEUS BOMBED

Six heavy Italian bombers raided Diraeus and Phaleron Bay yesterday morning. Four Greek fighters drove off the raiders, none of whose bombs hit military objectives.

The fact that the town of Corfu is an open town and the island a demilitarised island was emphasised in a cable from Athens to the Greek Legation in London yesterday.

CORFU DEMILITARISED

The cable recalls that when Britain ceded Corfu to Greece under the treaty of 1864 one condition was that it should be demilitarised and it has remained so ever since.

The Legation declares that the Italians on Monday bombed towns and small villages where there were no military objectives in addition to Corfu.

Reports continue to reach the Legation of the extremely high spirit of the people in bombed areas. They state: "It has strengthened rather than weakened under bombardment."

KORITZA SHELLED

Greek artillery has started to shell the Albanian town of Koritza, one of the most important Italian bases.

It is confirmed in Athens that a body of Italian troops has been cut off in one sector and is in difficulties.

There was little fresh news in London yesterday evening of action on the Epirus front, beyond a statement that Greek planes have made heavy attacks on Italian concentrations on the coast west of Yanina.

CONFIDENT IN ATHENS

The Greek press in Athens yesterday struck a generally confident note about the Italo-Greek conflict.

Proia, for instance, says: "Eight days have sufficed to prove to the enemy that he has deceived himself."

"Now he must surely know that we are holding him and he must fight to the end," says the "Eleftheron Vima."

"Our soldiers know that the enemy is embarrassed by numerous fronts and is, in any case, not famous for the martial virtues."

"They also know that Greece and her allies are strong with inexhaustible resources and indomitable spirit. They have faith in their leaders."

ENTREATY & WARNING TO MARSHAL PETAIN

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter)—Sympathetic understanding of Marshal Petain's difficulties was expressed by the Foreign Minister, Lord Halifax, in a speech on the current diplomatic situation before the House of Lords.

Lord Halifax declared, however, that whatever Marshal Petain may hope to gain for France by entering the path of co-operation with Germany, we cannot believe that a government headed by a man of honour like him would commit France to a course which would be a stab in the back of her former ally.

"We have repeatedly rejected enemy suggestions for an agreement at France's expense," continued Lord Halifax. "Is it too much to hope that the French leaders may see clearly as German plans unfold that the cause of French survival is the same as our own and any action that would aggravate our difficulties—and which of course we should have to meet with whatever counter action circumstances might demand—must also deny the prayer of every loyal Frenchman to see France's former greatness restored?"

Lord Halifax found ground for solid encouragement in the position of the war in the air. Germany lost 2,433 bombers and fighters and 6,000 personnel in twelve weeks plus other aircraft which failed to return and large numbers, which must have crashed at their bases.

The Foreign Minister expressed the warmest admiration for General Metaxas' rejection of the Italian ultimatum and the spirited Greek military defence.

The position of Yugoslavia was rendered still more difficult as a result of the Italian move. Doubtless both Germany and Italy were attempting to take the fullest advantage of her geographical position.

"We are confident that the Yugoslavs will continue to reject German and Italian demands. They have the example of Rumania's fate before their eyes."

"Britain is in the closest consultation with Turkey whose wise and far-sighted policy constitutes a very solid barrier against aggression. Anglo-Turkish bonds are solid and unbreakable and we have the same faith in Turkey as we believe Turkey has in us (Cheers)."

"Anglo-Egyptian relations are close and cordial. The Egyptian Government is implementing the treaty of alliance in the letter and spirit with great goodwill."

INVASION PORTS BOMBED

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter)—R.A.F. bombers again attacked invasion ports and occupied France but it is officially stated that adverse weather conditions did not permit the usual heavy scale operations.

HAMBURG DISTRESS

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 6 (Reuter)—Sleeping bunks taken from the Maginot Line will be used for a new system of air raid shelters to be built in Hamburg, the most bombed of all German towns, according to a Berlin dispatch.

Thousands of bomb-proof chambers are apparently to be provided, including separate chambers for mothers, children and smoking rooms.

At an inquest held yesterday with Mr. Sheldon sitting as Coroner, and assisted by a jury comprising of Messrs. M. A. Oliveira (foreman), To Pak-ye and Chui Hon-fan, a verdict of death by judicial hanging was returned.

Evidence of the cause of death was given by Dr. A. H. Barwell, Prison Medical Officer.

Sin was one of five men, two of whom received 12 years' and three acquitted, who were charged with piracy jure gentium and piracy with violence outside Colony waters on the night of May 6.

Sin was defended by Mr. H. Somerset Fitzroy, while Mr. J. P. Murphy, Assistant Crown Solicitor, assisted by Sub-Ins. L. Tyler, appeared for the prosecution.

THREE PRISONERS DEAD

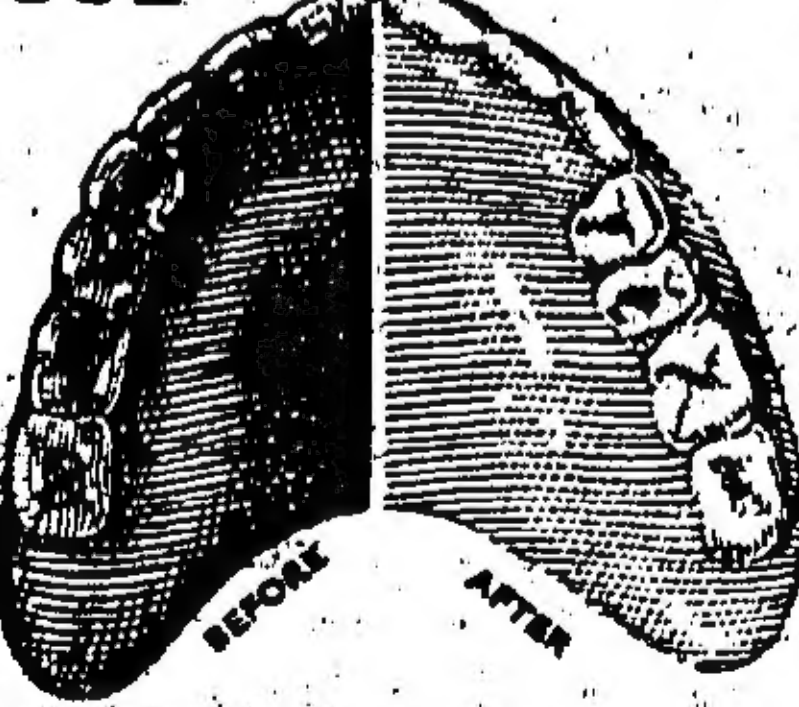

Inquiries into the deaths of three prisoners, who died at the Prison Hospital, Stanley, were held at the Central Magistracy yesterday with Mr. Sheldon sitting as Coroner. Verdicts of death by natural causes were returned in all cases.

The deceased were Leung Leung, 47, sentenced to nine months' hard labour, Mak Keung, 29, admitted to prison on Sept. 2, and Tang Chu, alias Shin Hang-tai, 25, who died on Oct. 29. Tang was sentenced to death on Nov. 28, 1939, for the murder of Leung Ki, 21, in Chinese Street on Sept. 28, but the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

DEMANDING MONEY

After further evidence, hearing of the case in which Ng Hin, 23, DW4, Ng Po, 25, unemployed and Tse Kwong, 29 DW37, are charged with demanding money with menaces was adjourned to this morning by Mr. Barnett. They are charged with demanding sums of $50 each from Chang Keung-

FALSE TEETH CLEAN AS NEW AFTER 15 YEARS' USE

Even false teeth engrained with age-old stains can be made clean and fresh as new with "Steradent" - the newly discovered dental cleanser. The amazing effectiveness of this scientific cleanser has been proved by Mr. A. H. who writes: "Some months ago I bought a small tin of the result was almost incredible. My teeth were in a beautiful state. I have had them about 15 years. I am not quite sure whether they look better than they did when they came from the dentist but do give you they are like new teeth."

Thousands of people have made the same discovery as Mr. A. H. False teeth and plates that were black with tobacco stains, and covered with a film of grime and coated with tartar have been made fresh and clean as new with "Steradent". Do not brush your teeth with "Steradent" into a glass of warm water, and stir well. Leave your false teeth and plates in while you dress or over-night. Do not brush. Simply rinse and your teeth and plates are wholesome and clean - clean where the brush can't reach. "Steradent" is guaranteed harmless to all dental materials. Sold by all chemists. THEFT OF GLUE

Charged with larceny of 50 caddies of glue, valued at $52.50, from No. 257, Des Voeux Road Central by a trick on June 18, a broker, Chow Tak, 52, appeared before Mr. Barnett yesterday and was sentenced to two months' hard labour.

Defendant was ordered to pay compensation of $30 to Tsang Hang, foki of the shop, and $15 to complainant, Tim Chu-sek failing which defendant is to serve an additional three months' hard labour.

UNSTAMPED RECEIPTS

Summoned before Mr. Sheldon yesterday on five counts of issuing a receipt for $70 without being duly stamped, Shu Yuet-wah, of No. 92, Des Voeux Road Central, third floor, was fined a total of $25.

Mr. J.M. d'Almada Remedios pleaded guilty to all five summonses on behalf of defendant.

Defendant lived at the above address and sub-let half of the floor for $70 a month. The receipts issued for the months of May, June, July, August, and Sept. had no stamps on them.

Mr. Remedios said his client was rather silly to give ten cents to the person who collect the rents to buy the stamp when she herself signed the receipts.

Mr. Remedios added that defendant had no intention at all of defrauding the Government.

POSSESSION OF TREE WOOD
Pleading guilty to the unlawful possession of 46 caddies of fresh wild tree wood before Mr. Sheldon yesterday Lai Cheong-kit, 18, unemployed, was fined $50 or six weeks' hard labour.

Defendant was arrested at Wongneichong Gap near Deep Water Bay Road on Tuesday.

Charged with possession of 70 caddies of fresh tree wood, Wong Tak-ming, 24, unemployed, was fined $10 or three weeks' hard labour.

UNUSUAL CHARGE

A Chinese appeared before Mr. G. T. Lowry yesterday on an unusual charge.

Li Chuen, 45, unemployed seaman, of No. 3 Tung Tak Lane, was charged with the possession of a carcass of a pig which had been certified as unwholesome.

Health Officer P.H. Wong said that he saw defendant preparing the pig in a scavenging lane behind his house. The pig weighed about 16 lbs and had been certified by the Medical Officer of Health as unwholesome.

Li admitted the charge and said he picked the carcass from the harbour. He was fined $30 or one month in prison.

THEFT OF POWER

Two Chinese appeared before Mr. Lowry yesterday charged with fraudulently diverting and consuming electricity, the property of Wong Chi-kit, at No. 37, Lyndhurst Terrace, ground floor, on Nov. 4.

The defendants were Yu Hung, 20, of No. 25, Stanley Street, ground floor, and Shek Yuk, 43, of No. 39 Lyndhurst Terrace, second floor.

First defendant was additionally charged with maliciously damaging electric wirings.

Hearing was fixed for Nov. 14 at 2.30 p.m. and bail at $100 each was allowed.

Det. Sgt. E. Summers is in charge of the case.

CANING FOR UNEMPLOYED

Stating that in view of the fact that it was his first offence and that he was reluctant to send him to prison, Mr. Lowry yesterday sentenced Tam Sau, 17, unemployed, to 12 strokes of the cane.

Tam, who was charged with bettling from the person of Lau Sul-kin, spinster, $35 and one receipt on Nov. 2 at Staunton Street, was remanded from Tuesday to ascertain whether he was fit for caning.

Det. Sub-Ins. Byron prosecuted.

DANGEROUS GOODS

Charged with the possession of 300 tins of kerosene on board junks No. T324TH and No. T324H, respectively, at Shaikwan harbour, other than a dangerous goods anchorage, on Nov. 4 O Tti, 35, and Wong Chun-lin, 46, in charge of the respective junks, were each fined the sum of $100 by Mr. K.M.A. Barnett yesterday.

Insp. Russell said the junks were lying about 100 yards off the shore in the harbour and when they saw the Police approaching they tried to sail away. The junks were stopped and the kerosene was found on board.

IGNORANCE PLEA

Pleading that she was ignorant of the regulations, Fan Ngan-chu, alias Chu Tsai, 22, described as a kept woman of No. 95, Lockhart Road, first floor, admitted the charge of failing to report to the S.C.A. of the possession of a ward, Fan Yuk-chu, 6 years, when she appeared before Mr. H. G. Sheldon yesterday.

Insp. H.W. Fraser said the case came to light as the result of information received by the S.C.A. that an unregistered musical was being kept at the address which was visited by a lady inspector.

The girl had been presented to defendant as an adopted daughter for a certain sum of money. Insp. Fraser added that defendant had been in the Colony for about six or seven years.

In imposing a fine of $10, Mr. Sheldon remarked to defendant that she would have to learn about the regulations.

For similar offences Chan Siu-tai, 40, married woman, of No. 8 Sau Wa Fong, first floor, was fined the total sum of $20.

Chan was charged with failing to report the possession of a 16-year-old ward, Au Shu-mui on or about Aug. 10, 1938, and with bringing into the Colony Ho Siu-hung, 15, without giving notice to the S.C.A. within one week.

Insp. Fraser said this case was also the result of an anonymous report made to the S.C.A. Both girls had been presented to defendant as adopted daughters. The girls had expressed a desire to go back to defendant.

AT KOWLOON

WATCHMAN'S CHASE

How a watchman chased four robbers armed with a revolver resulting in the arrest of two of them and injury to his own arm was related before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen yesterday when Lo Lai, 32, and Lo Sui, 23, were charged with armed robbery.

Det. Sgt. D. G. MacPherson said that the robbery occurred in an unnumbered hut in So Uk Village about 2.30 a.m. on Oct. 23, when four men, armed with a revolver, robbed Tsang Loi, of a $100 note, three $10 notes, two $5 notes and a $1 note. They gained entrance by breaking the front door and then bound up the inmates.

After collecting their booty the robbers escaped to a nearby timber yard where they tried to board a junk. They jumped back to shore and continued their flight as the alarm was raised by a few workers there.

Two watchmen in the yard gave chase, and the two defendants were arrested. Chan Chung, one of the watchmen, continued to chase the other two men, who fired two shots. As the watchman got his arms around one of the robber's neck the other lifted up his revolver and shot at the watchman's arm.

After evidence was given by the complainant and his wife, the hearing was adjourned to this afternoon.

MANSLAUGHTER CASE

Charged with manslaughter, an unlicensed fruit hawker, Wong Tak, 40, was committed to the Criminal Sessions by Mr. Hims-worth yesterday.

Det. Insp. A. E. Carey said that the accused was a hawker and of the afternoon of Oct. 21 was alleged to have struck the deceased on the stomach and left chest and also slapped him on the cheeks, when the deceased stole an apple.

The deceased was chased and as he walked along Taklung Road he collapsed and died.

Sgt. Jackson, of the Finger-Print Office, said that the deceased was an ex-convict by the name of Chan Shui-wing.

FACTORY ACCIDENT

Following an accident in the Kwong Sang Engineering Company, Portland Street, in which a worker was caught in the wheel of an unfenced machine and received injuries, the manager of the company was summoned before Mr. Macfadyen yesterday.

Mr. D. W. Phillips, Inspector of Factories and Workshops,

While sailing off Nine Pins on Nov. 5 a fishing boat was fired on by another craft with six men in it. Three of the men boarded the fishing boat, and after assaulting one member of the crew, Li Shun-chai, the robbers took away two sacks of clothing, valued at $37, and sailed away.

Another robbery near Nine Pins has been reported to the Police by Li Hung, 52, steersman, who stated that his boat was boarded by robbers and his crew were put ashore at Nine Pins. (The robbers took away the junk and the cargo which is valued at $307).

ROBBERY FOILED

Three Chinese males on Tuesday night at about 8.30 p.m. entered a hut in Tang Chuen Shan, Kung Chuk Yui village, Kowloon, and held up the inmate, Yam Sam-mut, 30, married woman, and two other women.

The women were tied up but the attempted robbery had apparently been discovered by the neighbours and Police whistles were blown. At this the robbers ran away without taking any loot.

stressed the danger of the unfenced machines in factories.

The defendant was fined $50.

The manager of King Kwok Bulb Company, Sai Yee Street, was fined $70 for keeping an unregistered factory and for allowing the premises to be so overcrowded as to do harm to the health of the workers.

Five Chinese were each fined $8 for occupying the Crown Land at Taioktsui yesterday morning without a permit.

Mr. W. G. Routley, of the P. W. D., stated that the road was specially built for the convenience of fire engines.

Roosevelt To Remain

BREAKING DOWN over a century of tradition and fulfilling almost universal hopes and expectations, the American people have voted correctly and soundly in retaining Mr. Roosevelt's services for a third term of office. The emphasis which his opponents tried to lay on the few supposed mistakes which he has committed during his eight years as head of the American Republic has failed to convert educated opinion in the United States from the view that Mr. Roosevelt is the right man to guide the destinies of the country through the troublous days ahead. The New Deal and its so-called defects, which was the chief weapon wielded by Mr. Willkie's supporters to oppose Mr. Roosevelt's re-election, has today become a minor issue in America's national life, except so far, of course, as it concerns the Big Business clique. What the average American today is chiefly interested in is that his country and all the liberties which he has enjoyed under its democratic system of Government should be safeguarded from power-politics of the totalitarian aggressors of Europe and Asia.

BOTH Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie promised that this will be done, but Mr. Roosevelt's assurance was backed by the practical and highly effective steps which he has already taken to prepare the country to resist this threat of aggression. Mr. Willkie declared his intention of multiplying several times over the aid which is now being given to Britain, which is holding America's front line of defence against the march of the dictators. Mr. Roosevelt has, by starting from scratch, so to speak, proved his ability to increase this assistance to Britain very materially in the near future. The American people saw at once where the favourable balance lay and voted accordingly. Their trust in Mr. Roosevelt is justified and, encouraged by that trust and confidence, Mr. Roosevelt will keep his hold on the reins of his office and steer the ship of state safely through the storms which are threatening to destroy all that American civilisation holds dear. In joining in the congratulations which must even now be pouring into White House on his third term election victory, may we conclude by quoting the words used by an American journalist in London on Tuesday night: "May God go with him."

DISCRETION THE BETTER PART?

DISCRETION has evidently, at long last, been allowed to find a place in the Home Government's view with regard to the controversy which has been raging in this Colony over the compulsory evacuation of women and children from Hongkong. The announcement, which was made public in an official communique yesterday, that women who have received notice to quit the Colony by the end of this week will not be compelled to leave, must, in view of the strong criticism which has been levelled at the Government on this issue, be regarded as an admission that the measure was, in the first instance, a blunder caused by an entire misunderstanding of the actual situation in the Colony and a wanton disregard of the adverse effect it would have on economic and social welfare of the people. For nearly six months the local authorities, instead of informing the Home Government of the ill-effects of the order, preferred to enforce it in a manner that created ill-feeling between the people and the administration and lost the latter a deal of the confidence which it should expect from the public.

THE PRESS made many appeals to the Government to take a more realistic view of the position and to amend its policy so as to remedy their initial error, but the answer was always the same—the local authorities were acting on instructions and, of course, could not possibly see its way to tell the Home Government where it had erred. The controversy was approaching a climax, as reports of the hearings of the Evacuation Advisory Committee prove, and driven into an untenable position, the move which should have been

CORRESPONDENCE

EVACUATION APPEALS

The Editor, Hongkong Daily Press
Sir—I send you herewith copies of correspondence regarding the appeal on behalf of my wife, which was heard on Saturday, Nov. 2.

In view of the publicity given to the statement made by the Secretary to the Advisory Committee regarding my inability to support my wife I shall be obliged if you will publish these letters in full.

The "apology" submitted on behalf of the members of the Committee and at once withdrawn by their secretary bears the hall-mark with which we are all becoming so familiar these days.

Yours faithfully,
G. B. S. THOMSON.

The Chairman,
The Evacuation Advisory Committee,
Colonial Secretariat,
Hongkong.

Sir—On Saturday last, during the hearing of the Appeal lodged on behalf of my wife, the Secretary to your Committee in his preliminary summary of the evidence stated:

"On August 2 last a letter was received from Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Master, Solicitors, applying for permission for Mrs. Thomson to return on the grounds that you were unable to support her in Australia and yourself here."

This was the complete reference made to that letter.

As you are well aware at no time during the hearing did I mention the question of maintenance of my wife, but unfortunately the above statement was given wide publicity in the Press as my main submission to your committee, and was in some cases attributed to me.

The letter in question is as follows:

"The Honourable The Colonial Secretary,
Sir—We are instructed by our client, Mr. G. B. S. Thomson, the accountant of The Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Co., Ltd., to write to you and ascertain whether there is any objection to his wife returning to the Colony."

When the instructions of the Government were originally given for the evacuation, our client arranged for his wife to proceed privately to Australia and she left on the 6th ult. and is at the present time in Sydney. As her continued absence from the Colony will involve our client giving up his present home and dismissing his staff he would, if it were possible, be glad if she could return to the Colony and, as we have mentioned, he would be glad to know if there is any objection to her doing so.

We may add, as far as help to be given here is concerned, she is the holder of an A.R.P. War-dens Certificate which she obtained in London.

We have the honour to be,

Sir,
Your obedient servants,

(Sd.) Johnson Stokes & Master.

I cannot see how it was possible to construe this letter as was done by your Committee.

You will appreciate that a press statement to the effect that I am unable to support my wife in Australia is greatly resented by me.

taken earlier, has now been made and compulsion has been removed from the measure, which, however, will still remain in force for those who wish to leave voluntarily. The admission of error, is, nevertheless, qualified in that it does not go so far as to give those who have been sent away an opportunity to return. There will still be dissatisfaction over this aspect of amended policy, but, then, Hongkong must be thankful for the small mercies which are now being shown to it and the crumbs of comfort which have fallen from the official table will no doubt tend to ease the position until, without losing face, the authorities can drop a few more crumbs, which those who have already been evacuated might be able to gather when they return to their homes in the Colony.

Compulsory Evacuation Abandoned In Colony: Official Decision

AN AMENDMENT TO THE GOVERNMENT'S EVACUATION POLICY, so far as it implies compulsion on British women to leave the Colony, was announced in an official communique on instructions from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Hongkong,
Nov. 5, 1940.

Sir—The Chairman of the Evacuation Advisory Committee, has asked me to reply to your letter of Nov. 4.

In preparing the notes on your case, I assumed that the words "As her continued absence from the Colony will involve our client giving up his present home and dismissing his staff..." which were used by Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Master in their letter of Aug. 2, were intended to imply that your appeal was based on financial grounds.

If my remarks, which expressed this assumption, were incorrect, you were quite at liberty to contradict them. I presume that since no contradiction was forthcoming the press reporters assumed that you accepted my implication.

I must assure you that the Committee has made every effort to avoid embarrassing members of the public who have appeared before it and that this particular misunderstanding is regretted by all the members. At the same time I do not feel justified in accepting responsibility for an interpretation of a letter written on your behalf which you let pass without question or comment.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient servant,
(Sd.) C. BRAMWELL BURGESS, Secretary,
Evacuation Advisory Committee.
G. B. S. Thomson, Esq.,

Kowloon.

COOLIE'S FALL

A coolie, Li Yin, employed by Marsman and Co. (China) Limited, was admitted to the Kowloon Hospital yesterday after falling from the first floor of the new Kowloon Godowns Cooler quarters, Canton Road. He sustained internal injuries.

ACCORDING TO THE COMMUNIQUE those women who have now received notices to leave will not be compelled to do so, but there will be no lifting of the restriction against those who have already left returning to the Colony.

TEXT OF COMMUNIQUE
The following is the text of the communique:

Instructions have today been received from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, who has been kept fully informed of the situation, that the compulsory evacuation of the comparatively few women and children still in the Colony and not already exempted is not to be enforced. Those women who have been served with a notice to leave in a ship sailing for Australia at the end of this week will accordingly not be forced to go, but any who choose to avail themselves of this opportunity will be provided with passages and will come under the existing scheme.

The Secretary of State asks that any women with children should be very strongly urged to leave the Colony, even though the compulsory powers are not at present to be exercised.

A WARNING

It must be emphasised, that should the situation further deteriorate no facilities to leave the Colony can be guaranteed and those not willing to avail themselves of facilities now offered will in any case have to give precedence to those temporarily exempted under the original scheme.

The Secretary of State also expresses the hope that all those remaining in the Colony should feel it their duty to do all that they can to assist in the Colony's defence scheme.

At the same time the Secretary of State does not consider that the international situation at present warrants the return of those who have already been evacuated and the existing restrictions on women wishing to enter the Colony will not be removed.

In view of the above announcement all those women who were booked to travel to Australia by a ship leaving at the end of this week are expressly asked to call at the office of the Accountant, Treasury, Windsor House, sometime during this afternoon in order to confirm their bookings or to return their tickets if they do not wish to leave.

The importance of notifying their intentions at once cannot be emphasised too strongly since it is still hoped to make such reservations as are cancelled available for those women and children who have expressed a desire to leave and for whom accommodation has been found until now.

BAGGAGE SPACE FOR AUSTRALIA

Husbands whose wives have been evacuated to Australia are advised by the Hongkong Treasury that a ship is due to sail on or about Nov. 15 for Australia on which baggage space is available at nominal rates. Those wishing to send any goods to their families are requested to see the Accountant, Government Treasury, Windsor House.

A.R.P. VACANCIES

It will be noted from the statement issued by Government re evacuation, that the Secretary of State for the Colonies urges those women who are not now being evacuated will do all they can to assist in the Colony's defence scheme.

There are many vacancies in the A.R.P. organisation especially in the telephonist section. Women posted to this duty will be employed at certain headquarters and their duties will be to receive and send out messages to the Services concerned and any air raid damage reports which may be received. Should any women feel they could undertake this duty would they kindly send their names to the Director of Air Raid Precautions, Wing-Commander A. H. B. Steele-Perkins, O.B.E., No. 88, Morrison Hill, when courses will be arranged.

Eye-Witness Account Of Conditions In Nanning

CHUNGKING, Nov. 6 (REUTER). — The first eye-witness account of the conditions in Nanning after the Chinese occupation reached Chungking from the official Central News Agency correspondent, who made a special trip to Nanning from Luichow.

After a four-day and night journey, the correspondent arrived in Nanning on the night of Nov. 4. Along the road, the correspondent saw numerous strong defence works of barbed wire entanglements, starting from a point 15 miles northward, in Nanning.

AREAS MINED
Chinese engineer corps are warning the populace and have cordoned off areas which are mined by the Japanese. Bridges and telephone lines along the highway, all remain intact while buildings in Nanning city are also intact, though farms are unattended.

The majority of the Chinese populace in the country-side has not yet returned to their homes. Electric lights were restored in Nanning on Nov. 3. It is estimated that one-tenth of the Nanning populace has not yet returned. All shops remain closed and only a few peddlars are selling drinks and foods. The magistrate of the Kuomintang offices is now assuming duties.

WANTED TO STEAL BELL FROM LIGHTHOUSE

Armed robbers raided the lighthouse at Capsulmon on Tuesday and held-up the attendant, Yu Sze. It was revealed in a Police report last night.

At 11.30 p.m. Yu was awakened by a torch being flashed on his face and he saw two Chinese men, armed with short firearms, standing by his bed. There were also two other men, one of whom was armed with a wooden gun, by the door.

The two men pointed their guns at Yu and demanded money from him. On being told that he had none one of the robbers said that they came to steal the lighthouse bell but had not brought sufficient men with them. He added that there were ten men outside.

BLOW ON HEAD

The man armed with the wooden gun gave Yu a blow on the head and again demanded money. The door of the storehouse, which was about 15 yards away, was then heard being broken open and, after 15 minutes, all the robbers left.

After a short while Yu went out but all the marauders had disappeared.

It was found later that $20 in money, clothing and jewellery, to the total value of $62, were taken from the storehouse by the robbers.

TOKYO, Nov. 6 (REUTER). — No matter who is President, America's foreign policy, especially in the Far East, must be reconsidered, because the policy of the United States in the Far East is "unfeasible," a spokesman of the Foreign Office stated today.

The revision of America's Far Eastern policy, which is "too theoretical," is absolutely necessary, the spokesman stated.

GREEKS CAPTURE NEW HEIGHTS

ATHENS, Nov. 6 (REUTER). — The Greeks captured a new series of fortified heights with semi-permanent defences on the Western Macedonian front, according to a High Command communique.

Sections of retreating enemy were attacked by their own tanks.

The air force successfully bombed aerodromes in Koritza, destroying a number of enemy planes on the ground. In yesterday's fighting two Italian bombers were brought down and no Greek planes were lost.

The main attack in Greece has not yet developed, according to military circles but it may be expected at any time. The Greeks are now fighting on the western side of Lake Mikrapresba. In the south, the Greeks have taken a number of prisoners.

SURPRISE ATTACK

BELGRADE, Nov. 6 (REUTER). — It is reported that Greek bombers destroyed several enemy machines in Koritza in a brilliant surprise attack and it is also revealed that two of the four fighters which engaged the Italian bombers in Piraeus on Tuesday were British. The other two were Greek.

The British and Greek planes each brought down one Italian aircraft.

There is no official confirmation here of reports that the R.A.F. have bombed Bari and Brindisi.

NO ITALIAN VESSEL

ATHENS, Nov. 6 (REUTER). — It is revealed here that British naval units patrolled the western coastline of Greece without encountering a single Italian vessel.

It is also stated that a large number of prisoners were captured in the Pindus area.

MORE LANDINGS

ROME, Nov. 6 (REUTER). — British troops have landed at the Greek islands of Mytilene, Khios and Kythera in addition to Crete, according to a report from San Sebastian.

WILLKIE REFUSED TO ADMIT DEFEAT

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (REUTER). — Although the NEW YORK TIMES, the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE and other leading papers throughout the United States conceded before midnight that Mr. Roosevelt would be re-elected by what appears to be a substantial majority, Mr. Wendell Willkie refused to admit defeat.

Looking grave and tired, Mr. Willkie went into conference with his advisers in his New York hotel after reports showed the ever-growing majorities for Mr. Roosevelt.

Senator McNary, Mr. Willkie's running mate for Vice-Presidency, conceded a Roosevelt triumph, but Mr. Willkie still wouldn't give up.

Other Republican leaders, thinking perhaps of the "freak election" in 1916 when Mr. Charles Evans Hughes went to bed thinking he had defeated Mr. Woodrow Wilson only to find votes of California coming in overnight had reversed the process by morning—refused to admit defeat.

After the conference, Mr. Willkie went to the microphone in his hotel amidst cheers of his supporters and said: "I never felt better in my life. I hope none of you are afraid or disheartened, because I am not. I just wanted to thank you for being my fellow-fighters in this struggle."

APPARENT TRIUMPH
If the verdict of the majority of observers is upheld, and Mr. Roosevelt's apparent triumph is confirmed officially during today, he will have achieved a feat which no other American President has ever equalled, not excepting George Washington, who is said to have disapproved of a third term in the Presidency, lest it encourage dictatorial tendencies among American statesmen.

Despite his comparative inexperience in public life, Mr. Willkie, the public utilities magnate, who was scarcely known outside the ranks of big business 12 months ago, has anyhow done much better than Governor Landon, who won only Maine and Vermont with eight electoral votes against Mr. Roosevelt's 523 electoral votes in 1936.

In 1932, Mr. Roosevelt defeated Mr. Herbert Hoover, whose administration was handicapped by becoming identified with the severest economic slump in American history, by 472 electoral votes to 59. But with the speed unequalled even in 1932, one Willkie supporter after another conceded defeat for their man between 11 p.m. and midnight.

TIME TURNS

The tide began to turn for Mr. Roosevelt when the Republican chairman in Ohio conceded his pivotal State had gone to Mr. Roosevelt. The President then began marching into an imposing lead which at midnight gave him the lead of nearly 2,000,000 votes.

Meanwhile, at Hyde Park, a crowd of 300 jubilant villagers paraded with torches, drums and bugles outside the President's house.

At the stroke of midnight, Mr. Roosevelt appeared on the balcony to acknowledge the cheers. The crowd shouted "We want Eleanor" and Mrs. Roosevelt also appeared smiling and waving.

The Democratic Committee held an elaborate party at the New York Hotel to celebrate the triumph and Democrats of all kinds, from Jack Dempsey to Mr. Eddie, American Ambassador to Poland, made merry there.

Crowds of Republicans who had gathered at another hotel for the "victory ball" grew more gloomy as radios blared the tale of Democratic victory.

SIR E. IRONSIDE ON HALF PAY

Field Marshal Sir Edmund Ironside, though supernumerary to the establishment of eight officers of that rank, is to receive half-pay while unemployed. The half-pay rate, formerly £1,800 per year, is now £1,625 per year.

It is understood that Sir Edmund will be available for employment, and that after a period of rest another post will be found for him.

In 1938, under a scheme introduced by Mr. Hore-Belisha, when War Secretary, the age of retirement of generals was reduced from 67 to 60.

Sir Edmund Ironside is 60. No change, however, was made in the conditions of service of field marshals. When unemployed, they remain on the half-pay list and are not, like general officers, placed on

SHANGHAI GOODS HELD IN INDO-CHINA

ADMIRAL DECOUX'S BAN

Chinese merchants and native goods manufacturers in Shanghai, who have thousands of dollars worth of goods stranded in Indo-China as a result of recent developments in the French colony, were agog on Oct. 31 when they learned that authorities in Indo-China had made a last-minute decision not to allow them to ship back their goods to Hongkong or Shanghai, reports the North China Daily News.

The "Shing Sheng News Agency" stated that some circles suspected that the goods were prevented from being sent here by the Japanese since recently the governor of Indo-China allowed such an arrangement.

NOT TOLD

The order forbidding the goods to be removed was said to have been issued by the governor a week previously, but Chinese merchants in Shanghai were not informed of the reasons for such a step. They were very much surprised to learn of this since, through negotiations, they recently obtained permission from the governor to have their goods moved out.

They have telegraphically petitioned the governor to rescind his new order so that goods, purely owned by merchants and native goods manufacturers, might be returned to them since they cannot be sent to the interior of "free China."

SEVERAL MEETINGS

It will be recalled in this connection that after several meetings, Chinese merchants in Shanghai sent Mr. Tsao En-hsien to Indo-China for their goods' return. With the assistance of the Chinese Consul General and Chinese Chamber of Commerce in the colony, Mr. Tsao obtained permission from the authorities there to have the goods moved out. Arrangements were being made for shipping the goods to Hongkong & Shanghai when suddenly another order was issued prohibiting such a procedure. Mr. Tsao is returning to Shanghai to make a report.

the retired pay list at certain prescribed ages.

POLISH WOMAN SENT TO GAOL AS "ROGUE"

Alleged to be one of the cleverest women pick-pockets in Europe and an associate of a notorious gang of Continental thieves, petite Hennie Fenigstein, 35, who has been living in a flat in Alvington-park, Dalston, was sentenced by the deputy chairman of the London Sessions, Mr. A. W. Cockburn, K.C., to 12 months' imprisonment on a charge of being an incorrigible rogue loitering with intent.

It was revealed by Det-sergt. A. Eearn that Fenigstein was born in Warsaw, and, according to her own story, she was smuggled to England just before the outbreak of war.

She declined, however, to say at which port she landed, or to give the name of the ship which was supposed to have brought her here.

It was stated that she was well known to the police in Warsaw, Paris, and Brussels, and she had twice been convicted in Britain.

SUSPECTED PERSON

At Marlborough-street, she was sentenced to three months for being a suspected person loitering with intent to commit a felony and for larceny, and at the time of her arrest on the present charge she was on bail pending appeal against a sentence of three months for being a suspected person, imposed at North London. The appeal has been abandoned.

Fenigstein was shadowed in Stepney by two police officers, who saw her make several attempts to steal from the baskets and handbags of shoppers.

When arrested, two rings, a watch, a necklace, and a bracelet, which the police believe to be the proceeds of a burglary at Dorking last September, were found in her possession.

Fenigstein's explanation was that she bought the rings in Poland years ago. The bracelet, from which hung five golden sovereigns, and the watch, she said, were given to her in Poland, and she had worn the necklace since she was 13.

ONLY HER WORD

When asked how a woman of this character had been able to land in this country and what was her mode of living, Det-sergt. Eearn stated that the police had only her word for it that she had been smuggled to this country from Belgium as a stowaway.

She told the police she had an income of £5 a week from a brother and a sister, who were living in Paris up to the time of the German occupation, but there was no confirmation of this.

'ASPRO' for Headaches and Neuritis

Nerves were in a Terrible Way — 'ASPRO' a Surprise

1 Garden Street, Middle Brighton, S.S.
15/12/32

Dear Sirs,
Last week I had 16 teeth out, and not being well my nerves were in a terrible way; in fact, I had to be taken home from the dentist. I went on for a couple of days in terrible pain with my head and eyes, due to my nerves, so I had to go to a doctor. On my way home I bought a packet of 'ASPRO'. I took three and laid down, and to my surprise I woke up feeling lovely. Now, if I feel a slight headache at all I fly to my 'ASPRO'. I think 'ASPRO' should be in every home. I could mention a few more facts where 'ASPRO' has done good in my home. Once tried, always used.

Yours faithfully,

RUBBER'S RIVALS Higher Priced Synthetic More Satisfactory

Rubber does not grow many degrees above or below the Equator. So it happens that even an economically self-contained country like the United States or Soviet Russia must import huge quantities from the Far East. With the mechanization of warfare this dependence on plantations thousands of miles from Europe and America has worried the Great Powers for nearly a generation.

Tariff barriers, export taxes, the control of rubber prices by the British and Dutch complicated both the military and the industrial problems. Even if the world were not at war or preparing for it rubber has become indispensable.

Given such a background it is easy to understand why the synthesis of rubber should have lured chemists. They had seen vegetable and mineral dyes and colours displaced by exact synthetic counterparts, flavours and perfumes compounded in vats, nature outdone in a hundred ways.

Why must rubber be carried in ships half around the world? Before any natural product can be synthesised it must be pulled apart chemically to find out how it is put together.

"ISOPRENE"

Chemists heated some raw rubber in a retort, which is nothing but a still. A liquid dripped out of the open neck. "Isoprene" it was called. In 1892 Tilden, a British chemist, announced that he had let isoprene—obtained from turpentine—stand in bottles. He saw large, yellow floating pieces. They turned out to be rubber. Here was the clue to winning rubber from something other than a rubber tree.

Chemically analysed, isoprene turned out to be a hydrocarbon, meaning a chemical combination of carbon and hydrogen. Any of the many alcohols is also a hydrocarbon, but totally different. So is coal, so is turpentine, so is petroleum, so are many gases, and so, for that matter, is natural rubber.

Re-arrange the atoms of hydrogen and carbon in one of the alcohols, coal, petroleum, and the trick of producing a rubber synthetic is performed. For years the quest of synthetic rubber hinged on a cheap source of isoprene. To tap pine trees for turpentine was no better than tapping rubber trees for latex.

ECONOMIC RECONSTRUCTION PROJECT

3-Day Conference At Chengtu

CHENGDU, Nov. 6 (Central)—Reconstruction in Szechwan and Sikong was thoroughly discussed at the three-day conference of the Szechwan-Sikong Economic Reconstruction Commission which adjourned here yesterday.

Among the conferees were General Liu Wen-hui, Chairman of the Sikong Provincial Government, and General Ho Kuokwang, Secretary-General of the Szechwan Provincial Government. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who is concurrently Chairman of the Commission, intended to be present but owing to pressure of his duties, he telegraphically instructed General Chang Chun, Secretary-General of the Supreme National Defence Council, to preside at the conference on his behalf.

Over 70 resolutions were passed. One of the most important calls for the formulation of a comprehensive Szechwan-Sikong Economic Reconstruction Project based upon the Fundamentals of Szechwan-Sikong Economic Reconstruction drafted by Generalissimo Chiang, the 3-Year Szechwan Economic Reconstruction Project drafted by the Szechwan Productive Planning Commission and the Fundamentals of Sikong Economic Reconstruction drafted by the Sikong Provincial Government.

Another important resolution calls for the establishment of a Szechwan-Sikong Development Corporation.

WATCH ON AMERICA'S LIFE LINE

The spirit that built the Panama Canal despite yellow fever and other tropical diseases and such natural cataclysms as the Cucuracha slide has been revived to prepare the defences of the American life line. It can be sensed when the trains unloaded hundreds of workers, who are double-checked by alert guards into lock inclosures piled high with steel, crushed rock and other materials for reinforcement against air attacks and sabotage. It can be found in the new towns that have risen recently in the jungles to house the men who are pushing with speed the construction of a third set of locks, writes C. H. Calhoun.

The canal has been called the keystone of America's national defence; therefore it must be as nearly impregnable as engineering skill and trained defences can make it. Providing for rapid transfer of the fleet from one ocean to the other as defence needs may dictate is not the only function of the canal. This waterway has become of vital economic importance not only to the United States, but also to most of the countries of the hemisphere and to the world in general.

Closing of the canal would interrupt the exchange of commodities between the Eastern and Western seaboard of the United States and throw a burden that now average 7,000,000 tons of cargo a year on the transcontinental transport systems. Exports to the Far East now passing through the canal would add another 3,000,000 tons to this load.

In addition to affording a quick shuttle service for both the Navy and the merchant marine, the Panama Canal provides a naval and military base halfway between the two continents of the hemisphere. Here is an outpost in Latin America from which early action can be taken against an enemy attempting to establish bases from which to launch an attack on the canal, or to invade an American country to conquer it.

A BRIDGE OF WATER

Physically, just what is this canal like? The Panama Canal is a bridge of water over which ships pass across the isthmus between the North and South American Continents, south by east from the Atlantic to the Pacific. This water bridge is thirty-three miles long, with a six-mile sea-level approach from the Atlantic to Gatun Locks and an eight-mile approach from the Pacific to Miraflores Locks.

The abutments of the bridge are Gatun and Miraflores Dams, which impound the waters of the Chagres and the Cocoli Rivers and surrounding watersheds. This water forms the floor over which the ships pass after they have been lifted eighty-five feet above sea level by the locks.

In the Gatun Dam spillway are fourteen heavy steel gates. This spillway is built of reinforced concrete in the form of an arc 808 feet long, with a concrete apron below. Each gate permits the outflow of 13,000 cubic feet of water a second.

Defensively the spillway gates are the weak spots in the dams. But just how weak are they? The steel gates are very narrow and are not visible from any considerable height. It would be the sheerest kind of luck to harm these gates from the air. But suppose one gate, or two, or even all fourteen were damaged.

Weeks would elapse before the lake would be drained, and it cannot be assumed that in the event of a lucky hit the canal forces would make no attempt to plug up the hole with the huge coffer dams that are always ready to be floated into place. Besides, there is a reserve storage of 22,000,000 cubic feet of water in Madden Lake.

THE DAM AT MIRAFLORES

The dam at Miraflores has only eight spillway gates, as it impounds less than a billion cubic feet of water. Damage to these

Conditions In Unoccupied FranceThousands Of Girls Destitute In Lyons

LONDON, Nov. 6 (BWS).—A grim light is thrown on conditions in unoccupied France by an article in the Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter which says that the official French figure of one and a half million refugees in the unoccupied territory only includes those registered and supported by the Government.

There are also a large number of refugees trying to support themselves and unregistered. They struggle against inhuman difficulties.

The biggest refugee centre is Toulouse where, during the past months, 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 refugees passed through. At present Toulouse's population is still 800,000 instead of the pre-war 250,000.

FOOD SHORTAGE

Thus all indispensable goods such as food, medicine, clothes and bed-sheets are terribly scarce. The harvest was bad and communications very difficult.

French, Swedish and other relief committees try to find work for the refugees. Toulouse expects to have at least 70,000 refugees to support this winter, among them ten of thousands of women and children.

The committees are organising entertainment, school and education. All nationalities are represented among the refugees—French, German, Polish, Belgian, Czech and Jewish.

STATE-ORGANISED CAMP

A half-hour trip from Toulouse, a State-organised camp shelters 500 women and 20,000 others are expected soon for which space has been found.

In Lyons there are about 12,000 people evacuated or expelled from Alsace Lorraine.

A difficult problem is also to find work, clothes, food and spiritual assistance for 22,000 Paris girls aged 14 to 18 who are unable to support themselves.

ASSURANCES TO U.S. GOVT.Control Of French Colonies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Marshal Petain is believed to have assured the United States Government that France does not intend to give up to the Reich any part of the control of her colonies.

General Benavita will be the new French Military Attache in Washington. He is expected to arrive with instructions concerning Martinique.

The United States is unlikely to move until General Benavita has arrived.

Certain diplomatic quarters envisage an offer to the United States of an air and naval base at Martinique.

BOMBING OF MONASTIREXPERTS TO TRACE ORIGIN OF PLANES

BELGRADE, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The most severe measures have been taken at once to oppose, by means of armed force, any further attempts at violation of our frontier and attacks against our territory," states an official communique issued here last night in regard to the bombing of Monastir.

The communique states that 10 foreign planes dropped 21 bombs on the town which killed nine persons and wounded 21. Serious damage was also caused.

The communique adds: "Expert commissions have been sent to establish by investigation on the spot the trace and origin of the planes. Appropriate representations will then be made."

Italian Approval Of Tangier Seizure

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Italian approval of the Spanish Commander's action in taking full control of the International Zone in Tangier is expressed by the official Italian news agency.

"As a Mediterranean Power which participated in the Tangier Statute, Italy has followed the course of events in Tangier with sentiments of friendship towards Spain," says the Italian news agency.

"Roman circles," it adds, "affirm that the measures taken by Spain are to counteract French and especially British manoeuvres."

A CONTRAST:

THE GERMANS TODAY &—THE BRITISH TODAY

TWO STRIKING PICTURES of conditions among the people of Germany and Britain were given by two commentators in London last night.

The first speaker, an American, referred to a visit to Munich soon after France had signed what he described as "a crippling armistice" with Germany.

"Herr Hitler had ordered a ten-day celebration," he said, "and I expected to see the people dancing in the streets in celebrating this unprecedented victory."

"Instead the people were unmistakably sad, quiet and worried. I could not understand it all and could scarcely believe the testimony of my own eyes. The scarlet hands bearing swastikas, which fluttered in the streets seemed to emphasize the melancholy. When German troops marched through the streets, scarcely a head was turned. There were no cheers and people continued to go calmly about their business."

"In a great beer hall about 1,000 people sat silent and morosely. I expressed my surprise and the man to whom I put my question glanced up and said: 'We celebrated once, in 1918.'"

A DEAD LISTLESSNESS
"This was the first of many surprises. A dead listlessness is spreading through Germany like a plague and if the contagion is not halted, Germany may go the way of France. This scourge has not yet infected the army, the Nazi Party and the Hitler Youth."

"Never have I seen people with less elan. It was not fear or the damage being caused by British air raids, for these raids at that time were still on a small scale compared with those over London."

"It was something deeper. They could see no end to it. It had always been with them since 1914. Sometimes one could feel sorry for them. I asked them whether they thought the war would soon be over and almost invariably the answer was 'Ah no, it will go on. America will come in again and we will have another terrible winter.'"

"OH! THE PAPERS!"
"But your papers say you are defeating England," I said."

"Oh, the papers," was the reply with a shrug of shoulders which gave expression to the unspoken thought that they could not believe their papers."

"The morning I left, the servants of the hotel gathered round me and begged for the food stamps I had not used. One woman said: 'Take me with you; hide me in your trunk; do anything.'"

HITLER IS WORRIED
"When they shook hands they had the attitude of people remaining in a desperate situation. A German speaking of Herr Hitler's last speech said: 'He is worried; we can tell it by the way he spoke.'"

"Officials in Germany had confidently assured them that it would all be over in three weeks. As the weeks slipped into months, this prophecy slipped into a boomerang and now they say that they are fighting the world's strongest empire and that it will take time to defeat it."

"Every day of English resistance has caused the Germans, to say: 'Ah, it will never be over. We shall have another terrible winter—no food, no heat and bombing every night.'"

THE TEMPER OF THE BRITISH
The second speaker contrasted these remarks with conditions in England and what he described as "the temper of the British people."

"I cannot understand this new Germany which has just been described to you," he said, "but Germany is not the only country that is changed."

"For a long time before the war the people of England were sad and slow. There was a general feeling that the country was drifting to war and there was even a talk of 'degeneracy in our attitude.'"

"The previous speaker said that since the war started the Germans have become sad and despondent. This is not the reaction in London."

LONDON AWAKES
"For months we had been talking of war and then what we had been talking about happened and we have been bombed as we have never been bombed before. We wondered whether our nerves could take it and whether we could stand it."

"Then came the barrage and London knew we were hitting back. When that barrage opened a new London awoke. There was no gloom or despondency. Every night I have spent here convinces me that we shall win in the end. If you believe in the spiritual factor of this war, you cannot believe in anything else."

"There are two reactions only—a determination that London will hold out until the battle is won and a very great anger."

NO LONG FACES
"There are few long faces. I am talking of the ordinary men, women and children, those who have been manning our civil defenses, the people who quietly carry on with their jobs."

"To be amongst them is a great privilege. No depression will be allowed to creep in. There will be much more anger and much more hatred, but they are growing more determined to see that this will never happen again."

Custom's Pass Collision Sequel

CLAIM BROUGHT BY LORRY OWNER

A collision on Custom's Pass Road between a lorry and an Austin Seven on June 9 had a sequel before Mr. Justice Williams at the Summary Court yesterday when the owner of the former vehicle brought an action against the driver of the car claiming for $916.48 being damage sustained by the lorry to the extent of $520.40 and $398 expenses and loss of profit when the vehicle was out of commission for 33 days.

The plaintiff, Ting Kam, of No. 1023, Canton Road, was represented by Mr. D. B. Evans, while the defendant was Chan Hing, of No. 18, Shek Ku Lung Road.

CARRYING COFFIN
The lorry was carrying a coffin on its way to No. 7 cemetery in Saikung. As it was travelling on Custom's Pass Road and when mounting an incline, an Austin Seven, driven by the defendant, was observed to be coming down at a speed of more than 25 m.p.h. It was alleged by the lorry driver. The latter stopped dead, but the car collided with the lorry causing damage to the mudguard, the windscreen and other parts. One of the passengers on the car was flung out and landed on the front of the lorry.

Following evidence, the hearing was adjourned to Nov. 28.
